P Numb. 394

The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, July 22. 1703.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated July 28.

Warſaw, July 10.

IT has been reſolv'd in the Diet at Lublin, that the Sapiehaes ſhall be diveſted of all their Offices and Eſtates, unleſs they quit the Swediſh Intereſt within 6 Weeks, and ſubmit themſelves to our King. The Crown Army is to be augmented to 36000 Men, and the Lithuanian Army to 12000. The Saxon Troops are to joyn to make up this Number, but are to obey the Orders of the Crown Field Marſhal. The Diet agreed unanimouſly to maintain theſe Forces, but not on the means of furniſhing their Pay; ſome voting for an Exciſe, and others for a Tax on Chimneys. Mr. Robinſon the Engliſh Envoy lies dangerouſly Sick here; which has put off the Journey he deſign'd to make with the Envoy of Holland, to the King of Sweden.

Dantzick, July 18. On the Advices that came by the laſt Poſt from Warſaw, that the Diet is happily ended to the Advantage of the King of Poland, the Swedes and their Abettors are not a little dejected; tho' before War is declar'd, a Deputation from the Republick is to offer Terms of Accommodation to his Swediſh Majeſty.

Lublin, July 11. This day the Diet here aſſembled broke up; Among others they made a Reſolution, to put the Kingdom into a State of Defence againſt Sweden, and to that end to maintain 36000 Men for 2 Years; and in that time to endeavour to clear the Country of the Swedes. Of theſe 36000 Men are to be 16 Regiments of Auxiliaries, viz. 9 of Foot, 4 of Dragoons, and 3 of Cuiraſſiers. They likewiſe reſolv'd to ſatisfie the King of Pruſſia's Demands on Elbing; and in order to raiſe the Money requiſite for that purpoſe, to lay an Impoſition of 1 Rixdollar on every little Windmill, 2 on each of the larger ſort, and 3 on every Water-mill; which, 'tis thought, will ſpeedily bring in a conſiderable Sum of Money. The King will tarry here 8 days longer, and then go to Warſaw.

Hanover, July 24. The Diet at Lublin has reſolv'd, 1. To increaſe the Poliſh and Lithuanian Army to 48000 Men. 2. To allow the King of Sweden 6 Weeks time to declare whether he will have Peace or War. 3. That the Sapiehaes ſhall have 6 Weeks time given them likewiſe, to reconcile themſelves to the King; which if they neglect to do, they ſhall be declar'd Rebels, and their Eſtates ſhall be confiſcated. 4. That no Perſon ſhall dare in any wiſe to contrive or propoſe the Dethroning of the King. 5. That in caſe the King of Sweden will not accept of reaſonable Conditions, and conſequently if the Republick ſhould be oblig'd to declare War againſt him, the King of Poland ſhall be at liberty to make ſuch Alliances as he ſhall think fit with Forreign Potentates.

Hamburg, July 25. They write from Dantzick, that in an Action neat Nerva between a Detachment of Swedes of 1400 Horſe and 600 Foot, and a ſtrong Party of Muſcovites, the former were worſted with great Loſs, and left behind them 2 Pieces of Cannon.

From the Amſt. and Harl. Courant, dated July 26.

Hague, July 24. The Ambaſſador of Muſcovy Monſieur Ockolnief, and Monſieur Gerſdorf the Eovoy of Poland have receiv'd Letters, acquainting them that the Troops of the Czar of Muſcovy have taken Nerva.

From the Harlem Courant, dated July 28.

Hamburg, July 24. The Muſcovites are drawn off from before Nerva.

Amſterdam, July 27. Letters that came in to day from Koningsberg, make no mention of the taking of Nerva by the Muſcovites.

Baden, July 18. The Ambaſſador of France, has declar'd that the King his Maſter will recede from his former requeſt of a Paſſage over the Swiſs Territories, and has actually refus'd to accept of the Leave granted on certain conditions by the Canton of Zurich, for the Baggage of the Marqueſs de Blainville to paſs over their Lands: He ſays his Maſter has found another way to hold a Communication with his Army.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated July 18.

From the Army under Prince Louis of Baden encamp'd at Hundſheim, July 19. We are employ'd in fixing a Bridge of Boats over the Danube; as ſoon as 'tis ready, part of this Army and the Body commanded by the Margrave of Bareith will paſs over it. The Marſhal de Villars's Army is 25000 Strong, and we 24000. We are at Work in making Redoubts.

From the Camp at Stolhoffen, July 20. The Duke of Burgundy was yeſterday encamp'd at Wilſtad, he has left 10 Battallions at Fort Louis, and gives out that with the reſt of his Troops he will attack our Lines.

Philipsburg, July 20. This Evening General Hochkircken receiv'd Orders by an Expreſs, to march with all Expedition with the Troops of Weſtphalia he commands, to the Lines of Buhl; on notice being given that the Enemy have left a Detachment at Fort Louis and another at Wantzenau. The Duke of Burgundy is march'd to Wilſtad; he has ſent 8 Battallions and ſome Squadrons towards Offenburg, whence 'tis conjectur'd he deſigns to make an Irruption into the Country of Wurtemburg. P. S. Advice is come that the Enemy is advanc'd within 3 Leagues of our Lines.

Heilbron, July 21. The Bavarians have with great Loſs forced the Paſſes of the Mountains call'd the Brennerberg in Tirol, and are broken into the Trentin in order to joyn a Detachment of the French which they expect to meet them. The City of Ausbourg has accepted a Neutrality, and accordingly ſent 2 Hoſtages to the Elector of Bavaria. 'Tis ſaid the Army under the Duke of Burgundy will attempt to march through the Black Forreſt to joyn the Marſhal de Villars. The Body commanded by the Margrave of Bareith, lies between Palmerſhoven and Wolferſhoven, ſtrongly intrench'd.

Frankfort, July 22. On the 20th at Night an Expreſs arriv'd here from the Great Army on the Danube, with Advice that the Prince of Baden with the greateſt part of his Forces has paſs'd that River over 3 Bridges, and that he has left his Camp on this ſide well fortified with Entrenchments and Redoubts, with a ſufficient Number of Men to defend it.

Kinſale, July 11. Yeſterday His Excellency the Duke of Ormond arriv'd here in his Circuit to viſit the Forts and Garriſons of the Sea Coaſts of this Kingdom; his Excellency was met ſeveral Miles out of this place by the Gentry and Militia of the Country; and in an hour after his arrival went by Water to view Charles Fort, where at his Landing he was ſaluted by the Cannon, and at his return hither in the Evening had the like Reception from all the Merchant Ships in Harbour; His Excellency being accompanied by the Earl of Inchequeen Governour of the ſaid Fort, Sir John Percivall High Sheriff of the County, and Sir Edward Southwell,&c.

Sheilds, July 17. All the laden Colliers we mention'd in our laſt, conſiſting of above 200 Sail, expected to have had 2 of the 4 Men of War (which brought hither the Light Fleet) for their Convoy, but thoſe Men of War had other Orders. However the Laden Fleet have ventur'd to Sail without a Convoy. We are in great Pain for them, the Privateers very much peſtering this Coaſt.

Plymouth, July 18. Yeſterday ſail'd Her Majeſty's Ship the Naſſaw, in order to joyn the Engliſh Squadron under Sir Cloudſly Shovell.

London, July 21. A Ship is arriv'd in Liverpool, who parted with the Sarah Galley in the Latitude of 55, leaving her in company of 15 Dutch Eaſt-India Ships: Whence 'tis preſum'd ſhe may be arriv'd in Holland with thoſe Dutch Ships. She belongs to the New Company, and comes from China very richly laden.
